

PaceMetrics is a leading provider of real-time business solutions for transaction monitoring, end-of-day pricing and compliance to the Financial Services industry.

With headquarters in Dublin and sales offices in the major financial centres, PaceMetrics employs leading industry analysts, consultants, engineers and developers to implement high quality software solutions for the world's leading global financial institutions.

PaceMetrics delivers process transparency in real-time across the enterprise, underpinning best practices in Banking Operations, Risk Management, Customer Service and End-of-Day Pricing. Our solutions address your business problems, improve your business processes and help you to achieve your KPIs and SLAs.

The quality of the PaceMetrics solution is based on a unique combination of market expertise, innovative IT architecture and skilful implementation through a team of experienced professional services consultants.

Business Contexts

The key to the success of your operations typically lies in error-free, cost-effective processing of trades from initial placement through to final settlement, confirmation and regulatory reporting.

Never has there been more regulatory pressure to ensure accuracy, nor as much internal pressure to ensure the highest standards of good governance and the avoidance of Operational Risk.

Demonstrating compliance with both the spirit and the detail of the growing number of regulations is also a distinct challenge for Risk and Operations Managers.

In the area of end-of-day or intra-day pricing, your organisation has ever-increasing responsibilities and duties to ensure that end-of-day or intra-day pricing for enterprise-wide distribution is accurate and verified.

Your Customer Service team is being asked to perform to agreed KPIs, you need to develop and maintain that competitive edge. Customer satisfaction and your insights into it lie at the core of day-to-day business performance.

PaceMetrics Products

PaceMaker™ is a non-intrusive, real-time monitoring system that provides end to end control with full transparency into every business transaction. PaceMaker is truly independent of the underlying systems that it monitors, providing a holistic view across systems and processes. Your investment in disparate legacy systems can therefore be leveraged, with minimum disruption and minimum change to existing working practices.

The Price Verification Server™ provides a centralised, automated and audited process for the collection, verification and publication of consistent and approved prices, both Intra-Day and End-of-Day.

Both products utilise industry-standard technologies such as XML, Java and JMS, enabling ease of integration with your current infrastructure and enterprise-wide deployment.
